Dear Manager of Chevron on Truxel Ave., Sacramento, CA,

Informal Request for Discovery

Thank you for your cooperation concerning my report of the violent crime incident, at your store location, on 05202020. I am grateful for your prompt action by retaining AV evidence and contacting local law enforcement to report the incident. I understand, per para communication that Sacramento Police Department, as of this date (05272020), has failed to respond in obstruction of justice; they have denied obligatory duty to ensure retention of aforementioned evidence and enforce against the crimes.

Wherefore, I, hereby, informally request delivery of copies of AV evidence of incident at issue (which is fully disclosable to compel) before it is lost. Said discovery is needed for: 1) actions pertinent to previous averments (i.e.: assertions, statements) I made in correspondence on 05212020, 2) actions addressing the harmful negligence of the Sacramento Police Department (again after multiple occasion winning per averments aforesaid); 3) etc... Furthermore, I request, it simply, by email to: jaakovos@gmail.com. Could you please quickly convert to digitized video files to any common format, such as .mp4 or .avi or such if original is proprietary or specific to your surveillance software.

I promise: 1) I will not bother about this matter again afterward; and 2) to indemnify this Chevron location and staff from any liability in it. My grievances, thus far and for this matter, are not against you. You have even, more than practically, assisted.

Thank You,

Jacob (Not to be determined definitely with official name change on record);
